

March 2024

Dear Candidate,

Bluecrest Wellness – Clinical Operations Lead

Thank you for considering our new Clinical Operations Lead role at Bluecrest Wellness. This is a pivotal leadership role responsible for ensuring the clinical integrity, quality, and efficacy of the services provided by the Bluecrest team.

We are an entrepreneurial and growing business focussed on improving health and giving people the opportunity to own and navigate their own health data and wellbeing. Based in Worthing, West Sussex, 50 miles south of London and 10 miles west of Brighton we have a vibrant team and growing ambitions.

The Clinical Operations Lead will work across the organisation to support excellent healthcare delivery, optimise patient outcomes, and promote evidence-based practices.

The post holder will have a keen interest in preventative health and/or lifestyle medicine and work with the Chief Medical Officer on our strategy to become a lead provider enabling clients to live health confident with their personalised data.

This position requires a strong clinical background with good leadership and communication skills. Your training could be as a physician, clinical pharmacist, nurse, physician associate or an allied health professional, possessing a drive for continuous learning and a vision for growth in a commercial setting is essential. As we navigate the digital revolution your insight and skills in building a strong data and digital approach to expanding our consumer base will be crucial.

We will consider applications where a candidate wishes to retain a clinical component to their working week.

For more information and a confidential discussion about this role, please contact our retained advisors at Alumni Global who's contact details can be found at the bottom of this microsite.

We look forward to receiving your application.

Yours faithfully,

Dominique Kent
Chief Executive Officer

Dr Martin Thornton
Chief Medical Officer
