

Dear Colleague,

Thank you for the interest in the role of Regional Clinical Director of Public Health Medicine, Te Manawa Taki, with Te What Ora and for accessing the information about the opportunity within this microsite, provided by our search partners, Alumni Global.

This senior clinical leadership role is crucial in shaping the future of public health services across the Te Manawa Taki region. As the Regional Clinical Director, you will play a lead role in ensuring the delivery of safe and effective public health services, driving professional excellence, and fostering an environment that supports continuous learning and innovation.

Your leadership will be instrumental in the development and implementation of strategies and services across the region, contributing significantly to the realisation of Pae Ora, our vision for healthy futures for all New Zealanders. This includes leading and developing clinical governance, supporting the response to public health emergencies, and ensuring the consistency, quality, and safety of public health service planning and delivery.

We are seeking an individual who deeply values servant leadership, embodies Te Tiriti o Waitangi principles, and is committed to achieving equity, especially for Māori and Pacific communities. Your role will also involve leading organisational change, implementing new models of care, and working collaboratively with a wide range of stakeholders both within and beyond the public health sector.

Your ability to influence, inspire, mentor, and foster a culture of continuous learning and development within teams will be crucial. Alongside your proven clinical leadership, a deep-seated commitment to personal and professional growth is vital.

This is a unique opportunity to contribute to the transformation of New Zealand's public health landscape, driving change that will have a lasting impact on the health and wellbeing of communities across the Te Manawa Taki region. You will join a dynamic and supportive team, committed to excellence, innovation, and the principles of Te Tiriti o Waitangi.

I am delighted by your interest in joining our team, and very much look forward to engaging with you as this process unfolds. In the meantime, I encourage you to speak with Jess and Chris from the Alumni Global team, to learn more about this wonderful opportunity.

With warm regards,

Nat White (she/her; Dr)

Regional Director Te Manawa Taki

National Public Health Service